Want to get involved?

We always need folks to help present or co-lead at meetings, as well as tell us what topics they'd like us to focus on. If you'd like to help out or want to share an idea, please contact one of the members of the leadership team.

What we've been up to...

September was a fun way to wrap up the summer. Our meeting on relationships and sexual intimacy was excellent, with a lot of great points being shared. TMAH member Koleson stepped in to host the pool party. Despite the cloudy weather, we all had a great time. Thanks Koleson! TMAH paired up with TGQH to do a joint game night. We had so much fun that we've decided to make this a permanent arrangement.

October Calendar

October 28th 12:00-2:00pm MET Queerla— LGBTQ Day of Voting Houston! Join Equality Texas at the Metropolitan Multi-Service Center (1475 West Gray St) for our second MET QueerLA! For two hours we want members of the LGBTQ+ community walking our RED CARPET (yes we'll have one) dressed in their most outrageous, fashionable and fabulous LGBTQ+ themed outfit as you go to vote in the Houston municipal election! We want to turn the first Saturday of Early Voting in the Houston municipal election into an event worthy of the magazines. Walk the red carpet, mesmerize the paparazzi and CAST YOUR VOTE.

This Month's Spotlight!

The Election!

The 2023 Houston municipal election will be held on November 7, 2023, to elect the mayor, city council, and other officers of Houston, Texas. There are 78 candidates running for various city council positions. Additionally, there are 14 propositions to the Texas constitution.

With all of these things on the ballot, how can we keep up? The League of Women Voters has put out this nifty guide with everything you need to know, including where to vote, who is running, and what to bring to the ballot. Note---you can vote at any polling location. And you are encouraged to participate in the second annual MET Queerla—LGBTQ Day of Voting Houston (see October calendar on page 1 for details).
